The University Symphony Orchestra is rehearsing for the winter concert to be given Sunday night. More than 50 students and four faculty members make up the orchestra.

Winter Concert Sunday; Benstock To Conduct

An augmented University Symphony Orchestra will present its winter concert at 8:15 Sunday in the main auditorium. The concert will be the first of the school year for the orchestra.

Conductor for the concert will be Seymour L. Benstock, instructor in music.

Regular members of the orchestra, most of whom are music majors at the University, will be joined by members of the faculty and local musicians for the concert. Of the student members of the orchestra, 12 are not music majors.

Three University alumni are returning to play with the symphony. They are Janet Blaser, Bowling Green, and James Konzen, Pemberville, both '55, and Howard M. Mickens, Adrian, Mich., '49.

The four faculty members playing with the orchestra are Prof. Merrill A. McEwen, chairman of the music department; William D. Alexander, assistant professor of music; Richard Ecker, instructor in music; and Gerald McLaughlin, part-time instructor in music.

The concert's major work will be "The Reformation Symphony" by Mendelssohn. Included in this symphony is a well-known chorale, "A Mighty Fortress is Our God," that is often sung by church choirs.

A special feature of the final work, "Polka and Fugue" from "Shvanda," by Weinberger, will be the use of the large organ in the auditorium.

Station WBGU will broadcast the concert direct from the auditorium beginning at 8:15 p.m.

Nest Renovation During Holiday

The interim Falcons Nest will be remodeled during the Christmas vacation, maintenance department officials announced early this week.

A false acoustical ceiling, 12 feet above floor level, will be suspended from the present ceiling in the Nest, officials stated. The partition separating the Nest from the east wing of the Commons will be extended so that the Nest is completely isolated from the rest of the building.

Indirect lighting fixtures will be installed in the Nest to replace the present globe-type lights. Walls will be repainted and formica-topped tables are being purchased for the room.

The renovations are planned to create a more attractive and pleasant atmosphere in the interim Nest, officials explained.

Awards Available To Insurance Majors

The Charles W. Griffith Memorial Foundation of Columbus is offering five scholarships worth $200 each to insurance majors. The scholarships are to be awarded for the 1955-56 academic year, in competition with students from Miami and Ohio State Universities, according to Wilbur J. Abell, associate professor of business administration.

To be eligible for one of the scholarships, a student must have completed six semesters of collegiate work by Jan. 1, 1956. The students must have achieved a minimum cumulative point-average of 2.5 for three semesters before submitting the application. The student must also be interested in entering some phase of insurance after graduation.

Rodgers, Katz, Betts, Miller Elected To Freshman Offices By 543 Voters

In an unprecedented re-election for four freshman class offices, Patricia Rodgers, Kohl Hall, Donald Katz, Rodgers Quad, Betty Betts, Williams Hall, and Kenneth F. Miller, Rodgers Quad, were successful in their bids for class office.

Miss Rodgers topped a field of seven candidates for secretary polling 138 votes. Katz gained 129 votes for class treasurer, six votes more than his nearest rival, Beth Howard.

Senate Safety Drive On For Vacation; Car Wreck Gives Warning

"Strive to Drive to Arrive Alive" is the key slogan in a Senate-sponsored safe driving campaign directed primarily to those students driving to and from BG over the Christmas holidays.

Five driving watchwords will be emphasized in posters around campus: don't drive after drinking; don't drive when you're tired; don't drive fast or take chances; keep your car in good mechanical condition; and don't drive fast under poor weather conditions.

"The Case of Officer Hollibrand," a film dealing with safe driving on the highway, will be shown with the campus movie on Saturday, Dec. 17.

According to chairman Jerry Nysewander, the purpose of the wreck behind the Administration Bldg. is to remind students of the consequence of careless driving. It is a four-door sedan, the death vehicle in a recent traffic fatality.

Miss Betts and Miller received 176 votes and 247 votes in the race among 10 candidates for two Student Senate seats.

543 freshmen voted in the election held in the dining rooms of Williams Hall, Kohl Hall, and the Commons.

Elections Invalidated
Ronald Supinski and Robert Mann were elected freshman class president and vice-president in the first election Wednesday, Dec. 7. The election for the other class offices was invalidated by the elections committee, because of discrepancies in the balloting.

Other candidates for the offices and number of votes received is as follows:

Secretary: Donna Ward, 117; Norm Decker, 79; Flo Haddad, 62; Lucy Welborn, 54; Pat Bruckman, 48; and Gail Traver, 38.

Treasurer: Sam Saberna, 121; Donna Rae Whitaker, 104; and Donnagene Hall, 60.

Senate Runners
Senate: Arnold Wagner, 115; Gus Rutledge, 93; Elaine Ulrich, 84; Frances Piasecki, 79; Marilyn Stout, 67; Virginia Johnson, 65; Rosemary Morris, 65; and Wanda Green, 55.

The elections for secretary and treasurer were done by each student voting for one candidate for each office. In voting for senator, each student cast a first and second place vote. The two candidates receiving the greatest total number of first and second place votes were declared the victors by the elections committee.

Chem Schedule Varied To Gain More Students

A new chemistry sequence will be offered next semester, announced Dr. W. Heinlen Hall, chairman of the chemistry department.

Dr. Hall explained, "The new major will derive much of its strength from the proper choice of professional related courses in the other sciences, particularly biology, physics, and mathematics. Through it the chemistry department hopes to make its facilities, in such interesting areas as instrumental analysis and radioactivity, available to an increased number of students."

The new major will be available to students who have an interest in chemistry but find it impractical to include all of the requirements for the present major.

The new 32-hour major will be offered for students preparing for the study of dentistry, medicine, medical technology, secondary school teaching, or for industrial training such as technical sales or laboratory work, and graduate work in related fields.

Requirements of the new major are: 32 hours of acceptable courses in chemistry, including Chemistry 101, 102, 301, 302, 303, 304, and 403, and either 252 or 401, together with a year of college physics and a year of mathematics, including Mathematics 104. Additional courses chosen must be from the following: Chemistry 202, 310, 402, 404, 413, 430. German is recommended as a foreign language.

The present 38-hour major will be continued for those students who wish to prepare for more independent types of research, said Dr. Hall.

A Cappella To Sing Over Radio Network

Sixty members of the A Cappella Choir will leave at 2 p.m. today for Cleveland to record its annual radio network Christmas broadcast.

This is the sixth consecutive year for the broadcast originating from WTAM, the Cleveland affiliate of NBC.

Dr. William Terry Wickham, president of Heidelberg College, will give the mid-term commencement address February 3 and will also be awarded the honorary degree of doctor of laws at the ceremonies.

Freshman Men Hear Talks, Music, Activities

Approximately 200 freshman men attended the interfraternity Council Review held in the Recreation Hall last Monday night. The Review, under the chairmanship of Jerry Reed, was sponsored by IFC for the purpose of enlightening freshmen on the advantages of fraternity living.

After short talks on the value of fraternity living by Dean Arch B. Conklin and Dr. Elden T. Smith, advisers to IFC, Sigma Chi Fraternity and Phi Mu sorority sang their winning songs from the Barbershop Sing, held earlier this semester. Theta Chi fraternity, winners of last year's IFC Sing, also sang a selection for the group.

Bob Smith, president of IFC, and master of ceremonies for the program, explained the other fraternity-sponsored all-campus events such as Sadie Hawkins, Pie Week, Derby Day, the Bicycle and Chariot Races. Fred Ashley, chairman of the coming Greek Week, also explained the activities concerning Greek Week.

To close the program Herb Moorehead sang several songs, accompanied by Roger Phillips and his combo. A short mixer was held and refreshments were served by the various sorority presidents.

McDonald Goes South For 2-Week Vacation

Pres. and Mrs. Ralph W. McDonald left early this week to spend a two-week vacation motoring in the South, according to Miss Natalie Gould, administrative assistant.

They will return Dec. 26 to enable Dr. McDonald time to prepare for the special session of the state legislature convening Jan. 16. The Inter-University Council, composed of the six state universities, will make its presentation to the legislature at the session.

MIS Seeks Status As Fraternity; Changes Name To Delta Epsilon

The Men's Independent Society has adopted the name of Delta Epsilon and will petition for recognition as a local fraternity, Robert Darling, president of the local organization, announced.

This decision was made at a meeting of the group Wednesday night. Present membership in Delta Epsilon is 22 active undergraduate student members.

Mandell, assistant professor of business administration; Donald C. Peterson, instructor in journalism; Dr. John T. Carey, assistant professor of art; and the Rev. Paul Bock, director of UCF.

The decorations will be viewed tomorrow at 10 a.m. and will be judged 50 per cent on originality and 50 per cent on workmanship.

A rotating trophy will be presented to the winner of both the men's and women's divisions at the AWS Christmas formal.

BAND PREPARES FOR CONCERT

The University concert band is now practicing numbers to be used in its mid-winter concert Jan. 15, said Roy J. Weger, director of bands.

Twelve finalists for Key King and Queen were selected by 1,439 voters in the all-campus election Wednesday, Dec. 7. Ethel McMillan, chairman of the Student Senate elections committee announced yesterday.

The pictures of the dozen finalists will be sent to judges not as yet chosen, James R. Gordon, Key editor, said. The man and woman who are selected as king and queen will be announced when the yearbook is available for student distribution.

This number of student voters is 37 per cent of the student body. Candidates selected and the number of first-place votes received is as follows:

Carol Shaffer Linda Tieman Andrea Robbins Joyce Ridenour Nancy Linhart Sally Wilson

The preferential ballots were tabulated Wednesday evening by members of the election committee and Key staff. Included among the counters were Gail Granfield, Sandra Clark, Marcia Connor, and Miss McMillan.

In Our Opinion

Car Regulations Again?

Indications would lead one to believe that University students will soon force revival and reinforcement of the old car regulations through their recent, persistent abuse of the present rules.

Incidents involving major violations of city traffic ordinances by six University students have occurred within a three-week period.

What started with one or two minor violations has grown to near epidemic proportions. Each of the incidents could have proven costly, even fatal to others besides the driver of the car. This is not a scare campaign, but a search into the motives of students who condone such detrimental carelessness.

Four years ago and for a few years prior to that, no students were allowed to have cars either on or off campus. These strict rules were imposed because of a series of severe traffic accidents, all of which involved University students. Then the policy of the administration so often, first allowing seniors cars, then to the other three classes beginning last year, so that now all students who register their motor vehicles are granted rather lenient car privileges.

This freedom was given to the student body on the assumption that there would be no abuse of these privileges and that no further series of accidents or major violations would occur. This is not the case, or it is leaning that way.

If we are not ready to assume the responsibilities entailed in owning or using a car on campus, and further incidents of violations would cause one to believe that is the case, then all will suffer.

In granting the car privileges, all must cooperate, for if some flagrantly abuse them, then car privileges will be denied to one, two, or eventually all classes.

Sunday Movie Popular

Two weeks ago, a campus movie was shown on Sunday night because of a Saturday night basketball game. The main auditorium was jammed with students, partially because it was "The Glenn Miller Story" but also because the fast pace of a campus week end drops off too suddenly on Sunday.

The attendance that night swelled the main floor of the auditorium, and it is our feeling that a campus movie shown regularly on Sunday evenings would draw a similar attendance. It seems that enough studying is done on Sunday afternoon to make it a long evening, often with little to do.

A campus movie at that time would be both economical and convenient, and with other conflicting social events usually held on both Friday and Saturdays, nights, the Sunday evening campus movie might be a calming factor for the school week ahead.

Off The Record

'Saved' Seats Create New Sport; Basketball Fans Need Eats, Tent

By DICK BUDD

Attending basketball games is rapidly becoming a sport in its own right. Last Saturday evening we decided for once to get to the Gym early and get a good seat for the game. We arrived at the Gym at 6 p.m., a ridiculous hour we thought, and surely early enough to get a good seat.

Instead of an empty lobby, we found we were unable to get into the building because of the crowd already gathered. After 15 minutes of waiting, the doors were thrown open and the crowd pushed into the stands.

We found nearly a whole row of benches at mid-court, and felt that the wait and inconvenient hour had paid off. We crawled up the three rows to the seats and were about to sit when someone said, "Sorry buddy, someone's sitting there." It was very strange, because our eyes told us the seats were empty and we so informed the gentleman.

BUDD

This fellow was obviously very tough and very courageous, (we could tell by the way he twisted his mouth), and repeated his lines again. All around us were empty seats, but all of them had persons sitting in them.

After all our trouble, we ended up on the end of the floor, staring at the rear of the backboards. It wasn't until halfway through the freshman game that a faculty member began seating people in the "saved" seats.

MORAL: Bring a lunch and make camp outside the Gym early Saturday morning, or pick yourself a comfortable rafter. Or have more friends who are tough and get to basketball games early.

Bug to windshield: I put it all over you that time.

Windshield to bug: I'll bet you haven't the guts to do it again.

Pleasing coincidence . . . Just as the combined choirs were singing "White Christmas" in the Christmas Concert Sunday evening, the 10 p.m. chimes rang out a nostalgic accompaniment.

A letter to the editor of the Vermont Cynic, University of Vermont reads: To the Editor:

I like your newspaper. It is good. It is sometimes funny. My roommate lets me read it. I read it. I have a dog. His name is Rusty. He likes to read it. I have a cat. Her name is Kitty. She reads it. I am in the first grade. I am six years old. Mother says I am crazy. Mother is always right. I like your newspaper. I am crazy.

A wise man is like a straight pin. His head keeps him from going too far.

People who live in glass houses—might just as well answer the door bell.

College newspaper polls can often be disastrous to the ego, as members of the Kent Stater campus publication found out. The paper conducted a student poll to find out which feature was the most popular and most widely read.

Among the usual stories, including pinnings, parties, movies, football, and columns—what was to stand out above all others as number one on the poll?

New Post Keeps Smith Very Active

By JEFFREY OSOFF

Chief administrative officer of the University in the area of student life outside the classroom is Dr. Elden T. Smith, director of Student Life and Services.

Dr. Smith came to Bowling Green State University in 1940. He received his B.A. degree from Ohio Wesleyan University, and his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Western Reserve University. He served 12 years as chairman of the University speech department, and spent 5 years as director of the Huron Playhouse.

The main purpose of the University in establishing this area is that it may gradually design and provide a positive program of personal, cultural, social, and spiritual development which will enhance the student's life and experiences at the University.

During a late summer reorganization at the University, five major areas were designated in the internal administration. These areas being Academic, Student Life and Service, Financial, Residential and Plant Operations, and Public Relations. Of these five areas, perhaps the one which af-

Interim Nest Gets New High Fidelity Jukebox

By JOAN HONKALA

"The new high fidelity jukebox in the interim Nest has been placed there on an experimental basis, but if student demand warrants it, the old one will be returned," stated Leonard L. Cipra, manager of the Commons.

In making selections on the new machine, students are offered extended play records as well as single selections. The cost of one single record is 10 cents, while three single records may be played for 25 cents. If the player wants to hear one extended play, which has two tunes on it, he deposits 15 cents, and if he decides to play two extended play recordings, containing four tunes, the cost is 25 cents.

A "credit" system may also be established. Once sufficient credits have been built up, the player may select either single or extended play recordings. The illuminated windows, adjacent to the coin chute, keep track of the credits as follows: If 15 cents or more has been deposited, the window indicating "Make Any Selection" will light up; if 10 cents remains in the phonograph, or if only 10 cents has been deposited, the window indicating "Make Any 10-cent Selection" lights up; and finally, if after various selections have been made, a five cent credit remains, then the window indicating "5 cents Credit—Another Coin Required" will light up. A nickel or a dime may then be deposited, depending whether the operator is going to select a single or extended play recording.

The new machine was chosen with the aim of satisfying more people, since it offers five types of music. These are hit tunes, rhythm and blues, folk and western, all-time favorites, and classics and varieties. "We have already noticed the range in the types of music which are being played by students," said Mr. Cipra.

All-time favorites, show tunes and light classics are available on extended play records, while current releases of hit tunes, rhythm and blues, and folk and country music are available on the singles.

The new jukebox, which contains 200 selections, has a four-speaker high fidelity system. Two 8-inch speakers reproduce tones

Official Announcements

Dr. Ralph H. Geer, director of admissions, has announced that because Christmas vacation starts next week there will be no job interviews scheduled for seniors Dec. 19, 20, or 21.

Students who will be in Bowling Green during the Christmas vacation, and would like employment during this period should report to the Financial Aid Office, Robert E. McKay, student financial aid counselor, stated that there is a possibility that some of the downtown businesses will want to employ some students during the Christmas rush and that he would like to know what students will be available during that period.

A representative from the Commonwealth Life Insurance Co. will be on campus Monday, Dec. 19 to interview seniors interested in insurance.

Michigan Printmakers' Work On Display Here

An exhibit of 20 prints from the Michigan Printmakers is on display in the Fine Arts Bldg. Otto G. Oevirk, instructor in art, has an intaglio print, "St. Veronica," in the exhibition. Color and black-and-white woodcuts, serigraphs, intaglios, etchings, linoleum cuts, relief prints, and etching aquatints comprise the group, all of which are for sale.

fects the students most directly is the area of Student Life and Services. This area is concerned with the student's life outside the classroom. Anything from student housing, to medical care, to social activities are all included within this area.

The major administrative units and agencies which fall within this area are the office of the Dean of Men; the office of the Dean of Women; the office of Student Activities which provides students with an extensive social and cultural program including such events as parties, dances, and the opportunity for experience in working with others, in assuming leadership for student activities, in taking part in the various phases of University government, in work and worship with religious groups, and such co-curricular activities as publishing a semi-weekly newspaper, helping to operate a radio station, presenting plays, giving recitals, and making public addresses; the Office of Student Financial Aid which provides the student such assistance as scholarships, grants-in aid, loans, and part-time employment.

Large Responsibility
Dr. Smith as director of this complex and important area is responsible for every unit falling within his area and the respective heads of each unit, and in turn is responsible directly to Pres. Ralph W. McDonald for the smooth running and efficiency of each unit.

Falcons Invade Canada; Host Hillsdale Monday

The Falcons will be out to snay a two-game losing streak tomorrow night when they travel to Western Ontario. The cagers then return home to face Hillsdale Monday, Dec. 19.

The Mustangs from Western Ontario are seeking their initial victory over a Falcon squad. So far this season they downed Detroit Tech while succumbing to Ball State, Detroit, and Wayne. Last year the Falcons whipped the Canadians 80-57 behind a 17 point scoring barrage from Jim Tucker.

The Mustangs are paced by center and team captain Ray Monnett who scored 14 in last year's contest. Chris Ellis and Rance Smeeton are two 6' 3" forwards. Manning the guard posts are Lew Veres and Gord Scratch. Coach John Metras has consistently had his squads play the best teams in this area.

In the final Bowling Green home appearance preceding Christmas vacation they face invading Hillsdale. A fired up Daler quintet tripped the Falcons in last years opener 61-58. Hillsdale was severely trounced by Toledo in their opener this year.

John Woods, a towering 6' 7" center, features the Daler attack. He has replaced Ken Blizzard in

Swimming Records In Peril Tomorrow At Intrasquad Meet

Several intrasquad swim meet records are expected to fall Saturday as Bowling Green's swimmers open the season with their first all-out competition. The meet is the tenth annual intrasquad meet. The team has been divided evenly into two squads and competition should be extremely keen in all events.

Will Be Official

Coach Sam Cooper has emphasized that the meet will be official in all respects. Official dual meet rules will be in effect and a full NCAA collegiate program will be swum. Each team member, including freshmen, will swim at least once and may appear in as many as three events.

This year's co-captains Paul Dressel and Jim O'Connor will direct the two squads. The Browns, under Dressel, will include: free-stylers, Bill Muir, Dave Hamilton, Ralph Carbonero, Richard Burkhardt, Don Worsfold, and freshmen Phil Skapura and Jim Orth; backstrokers, Herbert Lyman, Richard Somerville, Dressel, and freshman Wes Boughner; breaststrokers, John Thompson and Phil Brewer; and divers, John Michael, Bill Castahien, and frosh Nubby Smith.

Jim O'Connor's squad has a Don Kepler, Paul Atkinson, Dick Rose, Jim Repp, Joe Garbo, O'Connor, John Dornbos, and Jim Forbes in the free style; backstroke, Ralph Eakins and Walter Deichert; breaststroking will be Karl Seidl and freshmen David Clark and Gerald Greenway; and handling the diving will be Dick Smith and James Elliott.

Open To Public

The meet is open to the public and will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Natatorium. All swimmers have been turning in good times in practice, and since the squads are so evenly divided, the meet should be very close.

McDonald Paces Frosh To Fifth Win

Led by Jim McDonald's 24 points, the BG freshman basketball team won its fifth straight game of the season, as they easily turned back a tough Detroit frosh aggregation, 61-50.

Detroit was the toughest team the junior Falcons have faced to date, but too much rebounding strength and clever ball-handling by BG kept them in the drivers seat most of the game.

The frosh got off to a slow start, not hitting with the consistency they have enjoyed most of the season.

McDonald, clever guard, took scoring honors for the night with 24. He picked up 16 markers in the first half and 8 after the intermission. His teammate at center, Dick Abele, finished next to McDonald in the scoring department with 14 points, 12 coming in the first half.

the starting lineup. Blizzard paced the Michigan squad last year. Guard Al Schaffer has been hitting in double figures so far, mainly on foul shots.

Falcon coach Harold Anderson is not certain of a starting lineup for either of these two games. During practice this week he has been using several combinations in an attempt to find the winning one.

Sophomore DeWayne Smith demonstrates his specialty on the court, ball-handling, to teammate Rudy Dioszegi. The two River Rouge, Mich., products each have a special distinction among the Falcon players. Dioszegi, a towering 6' 10" center, is the giant on the team while the diminutive 5' 9" Smith is at the opposite end of the totem pole.

Former River Rouge Mates Give BG Cagers Mutt, Jeff Combo

BY RON SUPINSKI

Since their early teens, John "Rudy" Dioszegi and DeWayne "Dee Dee" Smith have been playing basketball together in their home town of River Rouge, Mich. Many times their playing had been limited to homemade courts, to hoops stuck on neighborhood garages, and to tilted, netless baskets hung on makeshift backboards in various vacant lots around Detroit.

Last year they were the "Mutt and Jeff" combination of Coach Dale Herbert's freshman basketball squad with Rudy, an 6' 10", not only being the tallest man on the team but also the tallest active player on any northwestern Ohio high school or college team.

Being the smallest man on the team is no novelty to Smith. Although not a prolific scorer, 5' 9" Smith has speed to burn and is a fine dribbler and ball handler. Operating from a guard position, he fits well into the Falcons' fast-break offense. When the need for a "freeze" occurs, he usually gets the nod from Falcon varsity Coach Harold Anderson who speaks well of his ever-improving sophomore guard.

While seniors in high school, they experienced their biggest sports thrill by going on to lead the River Rouge Panthers to Michigan class "B" basketball championship. Smith made the all-state tournament team as a guard while Rudy walked off with all-state honorable mention at center. Smitty captained the Panther tennis team.

DeWayne is a physical education major and Rudy is in the College of Liberal Arts, majoring in mathematics and geology.

Titans Hand BG Second Loss, 76-60

Detroit's Titans trampled the Falcons Wednesday night, 76-60, to march to their fourth straight victory of the season. The BG cagers again faced a red-hot shooting team, the second consecutive team to shoot over 40 per cent against them.

Rebounding Was Poor

However, it was the inability to get offensive rebounds that turned the tide of the game. The Falcons were able to take only 13 rebounds off their own boards during the game, which hinders any basketball team. Coach Harold Anderson, realizing something had to be done to find a winning combination, substituted a complete team with 13 minutes remaining in the game.

Detroit's smooth-functioning machine took an early lead and was never threatened by the Falcons. The closest the Falcons could come was 10 points, this coming midway in the first half. The Titans, under coach Robert Calihan, lead the local cagers by a decisive 33-25 margin at the intermission.

Junior Bill Ebben was the top scorer of the contest, connecting on 8 field goals, mostly jump shots, and 6 fouls for 22 points. BG's Chrystal "Boo" Ellis, was next with 19.

Good Shooting Percentage

The Titans had an excellent shooting average, an overall per cent of 44. They did not have a tremendous first half but connected on 12 of 33 for 36 per cent. In the second half they shot 53 per cent, potting 16 of 30.

The Falcons were several notches below that shooting consistency, as they finished with a poor 26 per cent. In the first half they had just 20 per cent to pull down their second half mark of 35.

Al Reinke finished behind Ellis in scoring for the Falcons by netting 12 points, 6 via the foul lane. Max Chapman, playing the second consecutive game in which he got less than 10 points, hit 9, followed by Gene Ray's 8.

BG's record now stands at two wins and as many losses, one win and one loss coming in Mid-American Conference play. Their next MAC game will not be until Jan. 4, when they travel to Western Michigan, the team they defeated earlier in the season by four points, 93-89.

THE TRUE AND TRAGIC TALE OF HAPPY JACK SIGAFOOS

Who would have thought that Happy Jack Sigafos, the boy the sky never rained on, would ever teeter on the edge of a life of crime?

Certainly there was no sign of it in his boyhood. His home life was most tranquil and uplifting. His mother was a nice plump lady who hummed a lot and gave baskets to the poor. His father was a highly respected citizen who could imitate more than four hundred bird calls and once saved an elderly widow from drowning in his good suit. (That is, Mr. Sigafos was in his good suit; the elderly widow was in swimming trunks.)

Happy Jack's life was nothing short of idyllic—until he went off to college.

In college Happy Jack quickly became a typical freshman—tweedy, seedy, and needy. He learned the joys of rounding out his personality, and he learned the cost. His allowance vanished like dew before the morning sun. There were times, it grieves me to report, when he didn't even have enough for a pack of Philip Morris—and you know how miserable that can be! To be deprived of Philip Morris's gentle flavor, its subtly blended tastiness, its trauma-repairing mildness, its ineffable excellence—why, it is a prospect to break the heart in twain!

Happy Jack tried to get more money from home. He wrote piteous and impassioned letters pointing out that the modern large-capacity girl simply could not be maintained on his meagre allowance. But all Jack got from home were tiresome homilies about thrift and prudence.

Then one day a sinister sophomore came up to Jack and said, "I know how you can get more money from home." Jack said, "How?" and the sinister sophomore handed him a sheet of paper. "For one dollar," said the sinister sophomore, "I will sell you this list of fiendishly clever lies to tell your father when you need extra money."

Jack read the list of fiendishly clever lies:

1. A bunch of us fellows are getting together to buy a new house for the Dean of Men.
2. A bunch of us fellows are getting together to buy a headstone for Rover, our late, beloved dormitory watchdog.
3. A bunch of us fellows are getting together to buy the college a new fullback.
4. A bunch of us fellows are getting together to endow a chair of fine arts.
5. A bunch of us fellows are getting together to build our own space satellite.

For a moment, poor Jack was tempted; surely his father could not but support all these worthy causes. Then Jack's good upbringing came to the fore. He turned to the sinister sophomore and said, "No, thank you. I could not deceive my aged parent so. And as for you, sir, I can only say—Fie!"

Upon hearing this, the sinister sophomore broke into a huge grin. He whipped off his black hat and pasty face—and who do you think it was? None other than Mr. Sigafos, Happy Jack's father, that's who!

"Good lad," cried Mr. Sigafos. "You have passed your test brilliantly." With that he gave Happy Jack a check for a half million dollars and a red convertible containing four nubile maidens.

Crime does not pay!
